Xylos Collection

This handsome jewelry collection is handmade from hollow brass beads of graduated sizes that flare gently on each end. The shape of the finished pieces is reminiscent of a xylophone or glockenspiel. Brass bead spacers on the earrings and necklace allow the flared beads to turn freely with eye-catching movement. Necklace has a brass chain; earrings have gold-plated brass ear wires. The brass post earrings have sterling silver posts.

Tiny pearl, gold-filled post earrings are offered in long stick or double pearl styles. ### Amira Collection

Our Amira Collection is inspired by the hypnotizing allure of blue kyanite and sapphire gemstones. Some stones used in the collection have a lovely durable, iridescent finish that results from stones being charged in the presence of rare metals; other stones are faceted and polished to a high shine. One grouping within the collection highlights kyanite and smaller white and blue sapphires stones with the iridescent finish and set with gold-plated brass fittings and in a pair of earrings with interlocking loops, and earrings and necklace finished with feathery chain details. An extra-long necklace, designed to be doubled, has two runs of smoky blue faceted sapphire beads interspersed with lengths of flat oval link chain. Another gold-plated brass earring duo features faceted, almond-shaped polished kyanites and smaller white sapphires; one earring pair is a chain chandelier style, the drop style pair has a gold-plated circle detail. Smaller chain chandelier earrings and a matching necklace have rows of tiny blue and white iridescent sapphires that are known as siliverite.

Amalia Collection

Rose gold, a form of gold that is pinker than yellow gold due to a higher content of copper alloys, has a warm tone that is lovely against the skin. This collection pairs rose gold-plated brass with silverite — an unusual gem created from pastel sapphires. Silverite gemstones have an ethereal, yet durable, iridescent finish that is the result of stones being charged in the presence of rare metals. Our large selection of earrings includes beautifully wearable chain chandelier or cascading disc styles, as well as rose gold-plated brass and silverite earrings adorned with other stones. Three styles of dangling earrings marry pink and white silverite stones of various sizes with tiny faceted strawberry quartz beads and chain details. Two other earring styles couple pink and white silverite stones with circle or interlocking wire loops, the latter has a smattering of natural champagne zircons for extra sparkle. Several cascades of white silverite beads in faceted oval and teardrop shapes dangle from elongated rose gold-plated hoops. Pink oval and white rondelle-shaped silverite beads interspersed with dangling discs adorn a chain necklace that contrasts nicely with any of the earring designs. All earrings have rose gold-plated brass ear wires.

Faceted Square Gemstone Collection

The chains, ear wires and other gold fittings on bracelets and earrings are all vermeil — sterling silver that is plated with gold. ## Figur Earrings

Our Figur collection of "hoop" style earrings is fashioned by hand into cool, figural shapes from hammered wire. Each pair is eye-catching, lightweight and fun to wear. Gold-filled wire, wire that is made from 14k gold mixed with other metals for color stability and longevity of wear, is bent into twist, loop and swirl shapes. The same shapes are also available in sterling silver wire. Mixed metal earrings have gold-filled wire bent into unusual geometric oval, angle and round shapes with carefully soldered sterling silver centers and ear wires. Diamond, hexagon and "Big G" shape hoops are formed from sterling silver wire, gold fill versions of these shapes are not shown.

Scythe Collection

Sculptural modern pieces in solid brass were inspired by the interesting shapes of small primitive stone tools, some of which resemble tiny scythes. Each piece is cast from brass, hand-finished with a satin-brush finish and paired with sterling silver details for pleasing contrast. Tiny pendants hang from fine sterling silver chains and are packed in a mixed case pack of three shapes. Two styles of larger pendants dangle from simple chains of sterling silver. Three pairs of earrings feature quirky shapes and sterling silver ear wires. Post earrings have an asymmetrical design — each pair is made with one forward facing shape and the reverse of that shape as its mate. Posts are sterling silver; packed one each of three styles to a case pack.

Peapod Earrings & Necklaces

Tiny faceted beads are set like seeds in golden pods to create pretty earrings and necklaces. Our pyrite peapod pieces are set with the sparkly dark pyrite stones known as Fool's Gold; a second version features faceted labradorite beads with their magical blue light-catching iridescence. A third style is set with silverite — a term for pastel sapphire gems fused with a shimmering metal oxide creating a diamond-like luster. Necklace settings and chains are brass; ear wires on earrings are gold-plated brass.

Mystic Stone Collection

Lovely gemstones with an ethereal iridescence are the result of stones that are charged in the presence of rare metals, creating a durable lustrous finish. Our Mystic Stone Collection highlights silverite, a gem created from pastel sapphires that, when specially treated, resemble champagne diamonds. Dangling earrings feature a faceted golden rutilite coin surrounded by tiny faceted white and gray silverite beads. A long, shapely, faceted briolette silverite stone with a grouping of teensy brass faceted beads is the centerpiece of a pair of earrings and pendant necklace. A faceted dove gray silverite choker draws the eye and begs to be layered with other pieces. Another layering piece, a long brass chain necklace with a lobster clasp for doubling, is strung with gray silverite and a medley of lustrous little mystic gems.

Marguerite Baroque Pearl Collection

Baroque pearls take up to six years to form inside an oyster, with a pearl developing more of its coveted luster over time. The highly wearable Marguerite Baroque Pearl Collection is made with creamy white cultured baroque pearls that are carefully selected for their unusual, irregular shape and radiant sheen. We combine the pearls with warm-toned, high-copper brass. A lissome lariat necklace flaunts a large lustrous pearl. Single pearls are suspended from small brass hoops in unique post earrings. Dangle earrings feature a pearl suspended from tiny intertwined links with gold-plated brass ear wires.

Irregular silver-plated metal beads strung on multiple ivory threads flow together for a liquid look in our Multi-Strand Bead Necklace. A beautiful strand of interlocking silver-plated brass rings has a light-catching hammered finish that brings complexity to the clean design of a chain necklace and bracelet. Silver Squares Bracelets feature hollowed squares of silver-plated metal nestled together with an elastic band; case pack includes three each of two styles. ## Antlers & Feathers

Deer antlers and feathers have a long history of use in decorative arts, and we designed these jewelry pieces in that tradition. Detailed, realistic looking antlers and feathers are hand-carved from cow bone and paired with warm brass fittings. Our handsome, adjustable Talisman Bone Antler Necklace, with layered chains, may be worn long or doubled with the oversized J hook closure on the front. Another style of antler necklace encircles a small bone antler tip with a brass ring setting on a brass chain. Precisely carved bone feathers are set in brass in a pendant necklace and earrings. ### Kyan Collection

The strikingly colored mineral, kyanite, is aptly named for a Greek word that means deep blue. The columnar natural shape of the crystals lends itself especially well to rectangular forms. We've used a graduating series of crystals to create polished brass-bezeled ladder designs on a pendant necklace, bracelet and earrings. A matching pair of kyanite rectangles is set into polished brass bezels with sterling silver posts.

Gold Vermeil & Gem Collection

The marriage of sparkling semi-precious gems and gold vermeil yields a tempting variety of treasures. Vermeil is sterling silver that has been plated with gold to give it a warm finish resembling pure gold. The innate beauty of a bevy of stones is highlighted with precise faceting. Aqua chalcedony is a lovely member of the quartz family; labradorite has a brilliant, subtly shifting blue and green fire; moonstone is characterized by a mysterious shimmer that mimics the luminescence of its namesake; semi-precious prehnite is a cool, aqueous green.

Herkimer & Brass Collection

Naturally brilliant and smooth Herkimer "diamonds" are natural quartz crystals that are named after the location in upstate New York where they were first found. These stunning crystals have beautiful clarity and two naturally "faceted" ends — a rare crystal form known as double-termination. Tiny Herkimers nestled in hammered brass wire settings are reminiscent of peapods and are offered in a necklace with brass chain and dangling earrings. A chain necklace features tiny natural Herkimer crystals strung on delicate flat brass cable chain with a lobster clasp.

Cast Stacking Collection

We compiled an extensive collection of jewelry pieces that induces an intense craving to wear them in profusion. Our uniquely shaped necklaces, rings and earrings are hand-cast in brass using an ancient lost wax technique and then plated with silver and gold. Three distinct groupings of mixed metal necklaces, some with a smattering of embedded zircons, beg to be layered. A trio of tiny gold or silver-plated zircon necklaces hang from matching chains. All five groupings of necklaces are priced individually and sold in mixed case packs of three different styles.

Gently burnished brass is handcut into curvy shapes to create our half-moon embellished long hoop-style earrings, half-moon pendant, elliptical earrings and ring. ## Tabasco Geode Collection

Rare Tabasco geodes, found exclusively in this Mexican state on the Caribbean Coast, are the smallest geodes on earth. We hand-select each of these glittering little gems with an eye for the most sparkling of crystal pockets. No two are alike, and colors will range from light to pastel to dark. Shiny, slender, gold-plated brass is hand-formed into delicate hammered cuffs — one with geodes on each end of the front opening, another adorned with a single geode — perfect for stacking in multiples. Delicate gold-plated brass chains suspend single geodes in two sizes and are perfect for layering. Earring options abound with single or double geodes on drop earrings or single geode post earrings. Tiny geode rings stack sweetly; a large geode ring can pair with the simple hammered bands.

Delicate hand-hewn feathers of warm-toned brass form a collection that moves from subtle to dramatic. Three or seven feathers float on ear wires; a delicate pair of hoops dangles thirteen graduating lengths of feathers; all have gold-plated brass ear wires. ## Modern Tribal Collection

This collection of jewelry made from brass is inspired by tribal jewelry traditions from around the globe and updated for contemporary style. A pair of earrings and necklace with a carved fish bone motif rendered in brass has a graceful, narrow fringe of dangling brass bars. Simple satin-finished brass discs adorn necklaces in a bib or long chain style and pairs of dangling or hoop earrings. A charm necklace with a brass Ethiopian Coptic cross has round brass and faceted green amethyst charms on a necklace of jade heishi beads accented with faceted brass beads. Two different beaded necklaces are made from combinations of brass and dark oxidized brass beads in varied shapes; the longer necklace can be worn doubled. Lovely crescent-shaped brass sheet discs are satin-finished and hand-stamped on both sides with subtle dotted rays.

Bolinas Brass Collection

We love to layer bracelets, and we designed our grouping of bead bracelets and cuff to be worn in multiples. Handmade brass beads in three varying shapes are strung on dark brown waxed cotton cord with button closure bracelets. A case pack of six bracelets includes two each of three styles. A companion cuff is woven on a metal frame from strips of brass with an antique brass finish. A brass ridged tube bead necklace is strung on cotton cord with a toggle closure. A necklace with a natural polished agate hangs from a handmade brass chain with a chunky front toggle closure. Three pairs of hammered brass earrings are crafted in pod, leaf and tiny saucer shapes with long ear wires. See pages 46-47 for the Bolinas agate ring.

Anatolia Collection

Our Anatolia Collection features Faden quartz, which we selected for its unusual crystal structure and distinctive organic shape. Faden is a German word meaning thread, and this mineral derives its name from the white, thread-like inclusions that permeate the clear crystals through a complex process that takes place as each crystal grows. Our warm brass vine-like claw and open-back bezel settings harness the beauty of each uniquely shaped quartz crystal in a statement-making choker and ring. Stone shapes and sizes on these pieces will naturally vary somewhat and each will be unique.

Mikayla Collection

We love the contrasts in a collection designed with mixed metals and silhouettes. The Mikayla pieces combine sculptural dagger and circle shapes rendered in warm brass and cool rhodium. A hammered brass dagger pendant is embellished with nine tiny brilliant zircons and hangs from a rhodium-plated brass chain; an unadorned, hammered dagger and loop finish the ends of a rhodium-plated chain lariat. A svelte brass cuff is meant to be worn with the opening in front—the ends are sprinkled with the tiny light-catching zircons. Hammered, unembellished earrings are slender, slightly curved brass daggers on sterling posts. For those who prefer dangling earrings, we offer two styles: rhodium-plated brass hoops with a cascade of swinging chains, and brass daggers embedded with petite zircon stones suspended from brass hoops. A graceful, hammered coil ring is also enhanced with the sparkle of zircons.

Herkimer Diamond Collection

With unusual clarity, rare double-termination and eighteen natural facets so smooth and brilliant they don't need polishing, these naturally-occurring quartz crystals from Herkimer County, New York, were discovered in the late 18th century and thought at first to be diamonds. Our artisan jewelers set these sparklers in sterling silver prong settings that reference the past with an antiqued finish. Earrings and solitaire ring feature artisan shaped prong settings.

Lapis Collection

Lapis lazuli is a gemstone that has been revered through the ages for its deep radiant blue color. Our Neela Lapis Pendant Necklace sets a smooth oval of striated lapis into a simple brass bezel, while the lapis and gold fill Liquid Bead Necklace drapes nicely in a long, languid strand. The lapis and brass Neela Faceted Plate Bracelet is designed with an unexpected offset stone. Tiny hand-cut beads of precious lapis lazuli are accented with golden rutilated quartz, turquoise and a variety of brass beads in our Sarisang Multi-Strand Necklace. ## Tara Chrysoprase Collection

Art Nouveau flair meets contemporary style in our Tara Chrysoprase Collection. Chrysoprase, a gemstone variety of chalcedony with an opaque cryptocrystalline structure, is favored for its striking green color with interesting brown inclusions. Our stones are cut into long, multi-faceted oval cabochons and paired with satin-finished brass. A single cabochon makes a simple pendant necklace. Smaller satin brass ovals contrast with Chrysoprase cabochons in a pair of post earrings, cuff and ring.

Crystal Point Collection

The name "quartz" is derived from a Greek word for ice, because it was thought that quartz was ice formed by the gods. Hexagonal prisms with pyramidal ends, these naturally-formed crystal points from Brazil provide a cool contrast to warm, high-copper brass metalwork. A dramatic row of quartz points is the centerpiece of a multi-gauge chain necklace. Single crystal earrings are looped and knotted on earwires, while small double-terminated crystals are delicately encircled in brass on sterling silver post earrings. A crystal drop necklace and earrings have a brass caliper setting. A single quartz "icicle" swings from a brass trapeze necklace with a pyrite nugget accent. A beautiful and unusual lariat loops a crystal point dangling from a pyrite bead accented chain through a polished occa geode slice.

Tiny Honeycomb Collection

A Plethora of Post Earrings

Thirteen pairs of post earrings made from gold-plated silver come in a variety of designs: Faceted sapphires are set into a simple carved detail bar. Two sizes of cameos are hand-carved in Italy from conch shell. Faceted oval rubies are set into simple prong settings. Square drusy post earrings are made from an emerald-colored green garnet known as Uvarovite. Twisted spirals, starbursts, horseshoes and X's are all pleasing post earring shapes. Round earrings are set with faceted natural blue sapphires; V-shaped tubes have small sapphires set into the end of each tube. White button pearls are set into petal-shaped cups. Gold-plated bars with triangular ends sparkle with pavé diamonds.

Patisse Drusy Collection

Like French gelée confections encrusted with sugar, our Brazilian drusies in crisp white or raspberry-toned pink sparkle enticingly. The stones are cut into rectangular shapes and set into satin-finished brass settings in our Patisse collection. The pink drusies are particularly rare and the color tones will vary. Necklaces with stones set vertically or horizontally have brass chains; drop earrings have gold-plated brass ear wires.

Nera Collection

Our contemporary Nera Collection features clean lines and an unusual yet highly attractive combination of shiny black spinel pavé set stones in polished rose gold vermeil settings. A cuff, straight bar earrings and small hoop post earrings have pavé front edges. Unusual large hoop post earrings alternate pavé black zircons along half of the inside and half the outside of each hoop. A D-shaped ring has stones set only on the front, while a second ring with a triangular scallop design has an eternity setting of continuous stones. Dangling post earrings in rose gold vermeil are polished and not set with stones.
