JEWELRY Fall 2017

Beautiful, natural gemstones in simple, modern and intriguing settings have been a hallmark of the Roost jewelry line since its inception. This season, we have lovely additions featuring Tahitian black pearls, Colombian emeralds, Tibetan quartz, Ethiopian opals and a medley of native-cut Madagascar gems.

Our tiny zodiac pendants and post earrings feature sculptural 14k gold fill to great advantage. We utilize this alloy in many of our new collections because we love its soft color, durability and value.

A favorite look this season is the layering of delicate, long necklaces and bracelets that are carefully hand knotted with tiny, faceted gemstones that shimmer and sparkle like stars plucked from the night sky.

With gift-giving in mind, we have added handsome new clutches, handbags and totes in suede and cowhide and expanded our keyring offering with oversized, satin-brass zodiac symbols. There is a treasure trove to discover within these pages — we hope you enjoy browsing.

Tahitian Pearl Collection

Tahitian pearls are beloved for their unusual and mesmerizing colorations, with the darkest considered the most highly prized and valuable. For this collection of necklaces, earrings and bracelet, we select pearls with a lovely, deep peacock green tone and pair them with gold fill and oxidized silver to create pieces with a modern appeal. A pearl and leather necklace has a Tahitian pearl strung on dark gray leather with gold fill bead details and an adjustable length. The earrings have gold fill ear wires or posts. Please indicate ring size 6, 7 or 8.

Gachalá Emerald Collection

Emeralds are characterized by their remarkable green color, lovely transparency and true rarity. The emeralds in our Gachalá Collection are faceted by hand into free-form rose-cut gems or sparkling beads that enhance the special characteristics in each stone. The oval stones in our ring, pendant necklace, dangle earrings, cuff and post earrings have gold fill prong settings. An assortment of dangling gold fill earrings with a variety of ear wire styles features unusual free-form faceted emerald beads with particularly intense color. Petite faceted, round emerald beads are knotted onto black silk cord on the adjustable bracelet. All the emeralds in the Gachalá Collection are a lovely shade of green but will vary in tone and intensity.

Tibetan Quartz & Tashi Gold Fill Collections

Sinuous designs in delicate, hammered gold fill are paired with Tibetan quartz crystals in these collections. These beautifully polished, double-terminated clear crystals with interesting black inclusions are found only in the high elevations of the Himalayan Mountains. A multi-stone pendant necklace has oxidized silver chain accented with gold fill loops. Multi-stone drop earrings have long gold fill ear wires. Hammered oval loops are paired with single stones in graceful drop earrings, and single stones dangle from oxidized silver chain in a pair of hammered oval hoops with gold fill ear wires. Hammered gold fill is formed into playful loop earrings, simple oval bangles, an artistically curved ring, two widths of cuffs and an oval loop ring. Slender rings meant for stacking are packed in a case pack of three each of sizes 6, 7 and 8. Other rings are packed one each of size 6, 7 and 8 in a case pack.

Delica Bead Jewelry

Perfect, tiny tubular beads known as Japanese Delica Beads are the basis for this graphic jewelry collection. These Japanese glass beads, with their high quality and uniform shape, are considered a world standard for beads. Gold-plated brass fittings and copper-toned beads add a nice contrast to the black and white beaded designs of our necklaces, hoops and adjustable bracelet. Bead bracelets in two widths are woven in pretty chevron patterns using a classic technique called peyote stitch.

Moon & Stars Jewelry

The moon and stars are aglow in warm brass and intertwined with rhodium-plated brass chains the color of the deep night sky in our Moon & Stars jewelry. A pair of post earrings and a pendant necklace with rhodium brass chain feature cast brass crescent moons. A large crescent hangs from a long length of rhodium brass chain on a necklace meant for layering. Two necklaces pair the moon and stars—a Y-style version symbolizing phases of the moon, the other with a small crescent moon amid four stars. A matching bracelet and necklace intersperse stars and lengths of rhodium brass chain like stars trailing across the night sky, and are complemented by our Shooting Star Earrings with their cascading lengths of chain. Petite brass post earrings in the star and crescent moon shapes come in a case pack of three each of the two designs. Post earrings have sterling silver posts; dangling earrings have sterling silver ear wires.

Herkimer Crystal Collection

Sparkling quartz crystals, also known as Herkimer Diamonds, have naturally beautiful facets and exceptional clarity. Our eclectic Herkimer Crystal Collection shows off these magical stones in a variety of unusual ways. A single brilliant stone is the centerpiece of a delicate bangle. Myriad sizes of Herkimer stones are knotted on gray silk cord with a button closure on a long necklace. A diminutive glass vial is filled with tiny Herkimer Diamonds and adorned with a hand-ground amethyst crystal bottle stopper and a brass chain. A pair of lariats mixes Herkimers with crystal points—one loops the lariat through a small geode slice while the other loops through a brass clip.

A miniature geode cleaved in half reveals a sparkling crystal drusy-filled hollow that is like a tiny wonderland. We choose special geodes that range in tone from light to dark. Each geode half is encased in an organically-shaped, textured, pronged brass bezel that follows the unique contours of the stone. The bezels of the rings are set with a sprinkling of natural zircons. Brass stacking rings in three subtly different shapes, also set with natural zircons, are packed one of each style to a case pack.

Tiny faceted beads are set like seeds in golden pods to create pretty earrings and necklaces. Our pyrite peapod pieces are set with the sparkly dark pyrite stones known as Fool's Gold; a second version features faceted labradorite beads with their magical blue light-catching iridescence. A third style is set with silverite—a term for pastel sapphire gems fused with a shimmering metal oxide creating a diamond-like luster. Necklace settings and chains are brass; ear wires on earrings are gold-plated brass.

Mystic Stone Collection

Lovely gemstones with an ethereal iridescence are the result of stones that are charged in the presence of rare metals, creating a durable lustrous finish. Our Mystic Stone Collection highlights silverite, a gem created from pastel sapphires that, when specially treated, resemble champagne diamonds. Dangling earrings feature a faceted golden rutilite coin surrounded by tiny faceted white and gray silverite beads. A long, shapely, faceted briolette silverite stone with a grouping of teensy brass faceted beads is the centerpiece of a pair of earrings and pendant necklace. A faceted dove gray silverite choker draws the eye and begs to be layered with other pieces. Another layering piece, a long brass chain necklace with a lobster clasp for doubling, is strung with gray silverite and a medley of lustrous little mystic gems.

Faceted Square Gemstone Collection

Petite, precisely faceted gemstones are joined with gold vermeil in this delightful grouping. The chains, ear wires and other gold fittings on bracelets and earrings are all vermeil—sterling silver that is plated with gold. Choose a simple drop earring style, or a threader style with chain front and back—one chain has a vermeil piece at the end that threads through the ear lobe.

Baroque pearls take up to six years to form inside an oyster, with a pearl developing more of its coveted luster over time. We combine the pearls with warm-toned, high-copper brass. A lissome lariat necklace flaunts a large lustrous pearl. Single pearls are suspended from small brass hoops in unique post earrings. ## Danburite & Brass Jewelry

Danburite is a lesser known mineral that is similar to quartz in appearance. Our clear, whitish and lightly pink-toned stones originate in Mexico, though this variety of stone was named for Danbury, Connecticut where it was originally found. Curved flat brass bar melded with brass link chain form a complementary choker with magnetic closure.

Figur Earrings

Our Figur collection of "hoop" style earrings is fashioned by hand into cool, figural shapes from hammered wire. Each pair is eye-catching, lightweight and fun to wear. Gold-filled wire, wire that is made from 14k gold mixed with other metals for color stability and longevity of wear, is bent into twist, loop and swirl shapes. The same shapes are also available in sterling silver wire. Mixed metal earrings have gold-filled wire bent into unusual geometric oval, angle and round shapes with carefully soldered sterling silver centers and ear wires. Diamond, hexagon and "Big G" shape hoops are formed from sterling silver wire, gold fill versions of these shapes are not shown.

Anatolia Collection

Our Anatolia Collection features Faden quartz, which we selected for its unusual crystal structure and distinctive organic shape. Faden is a German word meaning thread, and this mineral derives its name from the white, thread-like inclusions that permeate the clear crystals through a complex process that takes place as each crystal grows. Our warm brass vine-like claw and open-back bezel settings harness the beauty of each uniquely shaped quartz crystal in a statement-making choker and ring. Stone shapes and sizes on these pieces will naturally vary somewhat and each will be unique.

Mikayla Collection

We love the contrasts in a collection designed with mixed metals and silhouettes. The Mikayla pieces combine sculptural dagger and circle shapes rendered in warm brass and cool rhodium. A hammered brass dagger pendant is embellished with nine tiny brilliant zircons and hangs from a rhodium-plated brass chain; an unadorned, hammered dagger and loop finish the ends of a rhodium-plated chain lariat. A svelte brass cuff is meant to be worn with the opening in front—the ends are sprinkled with the tiny light-catching zircons. Hammered, unembellished earrings are slender, slightly curved brass daggers on sterling posts. For those who prefer dangling earrings, we offer two styles: rhodium-plated brass hoops with a cascade of swinging chains, and brass daggers embedded with petite zircon stones suspended from brass hoops. A graceful, hammered coil ring is also enhanced with the sparkle of zircons.

Modern Tribal Collection

This collection of jewelry made from brass is inspired by tribal jewelry traditions from around the globe and updated for contemporary style. A pair of earrings and necklace with a carved fish bone motif rendered in brass has a graceful, narrow fringe of dangling brass bars. Simple satin-finished brass discs adorn necklaces in a bib or long chain style and pairs of dangling or hoop earrings. A charm necklace with a brass Ethiopian Coptic cross has round brass and faceted green amethyst charms on a necklace of jade heishi beads accented with faceted brass beads. Two different beaded necklaces are made from combinations of brass and dark oxidized brass beads in varied shapes; the longer necklace can be worn doubled. A matching pair of kyanite rectangles is set into polished brass bezels with sterling silver posts.

The collection includes a bracelet with J hook closure, a brass chain pendant and earrings that are finished with gold-plated brass ear wires. Gently burnished brass is handcut into curvy shapes to create our half-moon embellished long hoop-style earrings, half-moon pendant, elliptical earrings and ring. ## Lapis Collection

Lapis lazuli is a gemstone that has been revered through the ages for its deep radiant blue color. Our Neela Lapis Pendant Necklace sets a smooth oval of striated lapis into a simple brass bezel, while the lapis and gold fill Liquid Bead Necklace drapes nicely in a long, languid strand. The lapis and brass Neela Faceted Plate Bracelet is designed with an unexpected offset stone. Tiny hand-cut beads of precious lapis lazuli are accented with golden rutilated quartz, turquoise and a variety of brass beads in our Sarisang Multi-Strand Necklace. Deep blue lapis heishi beads are accented with faceted brass beads in brass "peapod" earrings with gold-plated brass ear wires.

Our handsome, adjustable Talisman Bone Antler Necklace, with layered chains, may be worn long or doubled with the oversized J hook closure on the front. ## Gold Vermeil & Gem Collection

The marriage of sparkling semi-precious gems and gold vermeil yields a tempting variety of treasures. Vermeil is sterling silver that has been plated with gold to give it a warm finish resembling pure gold. The innate beauty of a bevy of stones is highlighted with precise faceting. Aqua chalcedony is a lovely member of the quartz family; labradorite has a brilliant, subtly shifting blue and green fire; moonstone is characterized by a mysterious shimmer that mimics the luminescence of its namesake; semi-precious prehnite is a cool, aqueous green.

A Plethora of Post Earrings

Thirteen pairs of post earrings made from gold-plated silver come in a variety of designs: Horse shoes, a bar and circle "toggle", graphic X's and tapered points are all pleasing post earring designs. Square drusy post earrings are made from natural emerald-colored green garnets known as Uvarovite. Gold-plated bars with triangular ends sparkle with pavé diamonds. Faceted sapphires are set into a simple carved detail bar. White button pearls are set into petal-shaped cups. Tiny green tourmaline crystals are simply suspended from a post. Sparkling free-form diamond slices are set into a simple bezel. Polished round-shaped lapis stones have a crescent of gold-plated silver along one edge. Emerald baguettes have a unique square setting. Diamond-like Herkimer quartz crystals are set in delicate prongs.
